Aswan University

This is to confirm that as the legal guardian or parent of the above student do hereby provide my consent for the student currently enrolled at the above-underlined university to travel to the United States to participate in the Center of Excellence for Energy Exchange Program during the Fall 2023 semester, which is tentatively scheduled to take place August 17, 2023–December 9, 2023.

I understand that if accepted into the program, the student will be required to be on Arizona State University (ASU-US) campus one week before the start of the Fall 2023 semester date on August 17th, 2023 at ASU-US and return to Egypt approximately one week following the semester's end. Tuition, academic fees, required program events, health insurance, lodging, international travel, meals, and a student stipend will be covered by the COE during the program term.

I am aware that this exchange program opportunity is offered as part of the Center of Excellence for Energy Project, sponsored by the United States Agency for International Development (USAID) under a J-1 visa in collaboration with Ain Shams, Mansoura, and Aswan Universities.

By signing this consent, I understand and accept that the student must comply with all rules and regulations stipulated by Arizona State University, the home university, and the sponsor USAID J-1 visa requirements for travel, funding, student conduct and academic requirements.
